Deutsche Bank

The Challenge

Our client is a premier global investment bank, a leader in Europe, and continuously growing in North America, Asia and key emerging markets.

With more than 100,000 employees in over 70 countries, the need to standardise contractor management was paramount in the banks commitment to health and safety issues across their entire property portfolio.

Any system would need to consolidate an array of processes documented in hazard registers, competency registers and contractor inductions, providing conflict prevention. This needed to be achieved through increased security awareness with a single goal of avoiding any potential disruptions to the business.

The Solution

The system has been rolled out globally to the Asia Pacific, America's and EMEA regions providing a multi-language, localised platform.

The solution has been specifically developed to integrate with the OHSAS 18001 certification; successfully contributing to the creation of a formal process of authorising work, demonstrating the bank's commitment to best practice in the workplace at all times.

Client Benefits

- Provides an auditable process in the event of an incident
- Compliance with all current industry standards, including OHSAS18001 and ISO9001
- For use globally across multiple sites whilst allowing for local variables
